Grand Marshal of Parade Lands Here in Helicopter

Campbell's Old Settlers' Day parade on Sunday, May 19, will have a twist this year that would not have been possible when the celebration started 65 years ago.

The grand marshal for the 1957 parade, Major General Roy A. Green, will arrive in Campbell that Sunday in a helicopter. General Green, commander of the 49th Division, California National Guard, will probably land on the high school athletic field, Neal Royer, general chairman, has announced.

Royer also reported that Eddie Wright, manager of Lee Bros., has been named parade chairman with Nick DiMuzio and John Wimbley as co-chairmen. DiMuzio heads the hospitality committee also.

Mrs. Naomi Hardison, chairman of the queen committee, reported this week that she and Mrs. Sarah Blue, assistant to the general chairman, have contacted both Camden and Campbell high schools and expect to announce the queen candidates by next week.

The queen will be between 16 and 19 years of age and will be chosen on the sale of tickets to the Footlighters' play that will open the 65th annual Old Settler's Day celebration on Friday, May 17 with coronation ceremonies taking place at the play. The queen will receive a pearl necklace and a $50 wardrobe. One vote will be given for each one dollar of tickets sold.

A square dance at the Campbell Shopping Center sponsored by Lee Bros. Market on Saturday night will be another feature of the celebration. A carnival will set up shop adjacent to the shopping center for a three-day stand and the parade on Sunday afternoon will bring down the curtain on the 1957 celebration.

Harmony Festival Aids Polio Fight

Second annual Harmony Festival of Barbershop Quartets and Chorus will be staged Saturday evening, 8 p.m., at Campbell High School auditorium under the sponsorship of the Lions Club.

Proceeds of the show will go into the Art Jacobsen Polio Fund of the local club.

Eight quartets and a chorus of thirty-five men from the Society for Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America will appear on the benefit program.

Singing in close harmony will be the Frisco Four, The Wailers, The Forte-Niners, Bay Rummies, The Rounders, Camden Cougairs, Uncalled Four, the San Jose Chapter chorus, and The Musical Tops, a ladies group.

Bob James, chairman of the show, urges public support of this benefit performance to enable the Lions Club to purchase equipment for treatment of local polio victims.

Council Delays Action In Three Public Hearings

Final action was taken in only one of the four public hearings on zoning matters held by the City Council Monday night.

In two of the cases the City Dads deferred their decision until their next meeting (April 22) and in another bucked the matter back to the Planning Commission for further study and report

The only hearing that went through on schedule was a routine matter relating to amendments to zoning ordinances. The amended ordinance was given first reading.

The hearings on Monday had been continued from a previous meeting because two councilmen were absent at that time.

On Use Permits

Coincidentally both the hearings deferred until April 22 relate to the issuance of use permits.

In one case, however, the hearing was held because a use permit was issued (G & P Equipment Rental Co.) and in the other because a use permit was denied trailer park on Dillon Ave.) Both were before the Council on appeals from the Planning Commission.

Different reasons were given by the City Council for deferring action in each case:

Trailer Park

In the case of Mrs. Gladys Crump whose application for use permit to operate trailer park at 186 S. Dillon had been denied, the Council though more study should be given the matter.

Councilman Richard Morton felt it raised an interesting question of how far the bars should be let down in an area that was zoned industrial, although no industries at present were on the spot. He thought the entire question of exceptions should be given more thought and study.

Councilman Myron L. Fairchild, on the other hand, felt that a trailer park would not affect the overall feature picture of the area and was ready to grant the use permit and made a motion to that effect. Mayor John M. Chargin indicated that he felt the same way while Councilman Charles Rose was noncomiital.

Fairchild's motion died for want of a second. Morton's motoin to continue the matter until April 22 carried unanimously.

Mrs. Crump, represented by John Thorne, San Jose attorney, who presented a petition signed by 40 property owners in the proposed trailer camp area favoring the proposal.

Equipment Rental

In the case of the G and P Equipment Rental Co., Councilman Morton thought that the city attorney should rule on whether or not the Planning Commission had the authority to issue a use permit in the first place based on he strict interpreation of the ordinance.

The G and P Equipment Rental Co., 473 N. San Jose-Los Gatos Road has been before the Council and the Planning Commission off and on for almost nine months. The operation of the company has been opposed during that time by A. C. Goulding, 361 N. San Jose-Los Gatos Road, who claims that the noise and dust made by the company was instrumental in lowering the value of his residential property next to it. After the Planning Commission had issued a use permit for the company to operate at that location, Goulding filed a protest appeal with the council.

Residents Gain from "Visits" to City Hall

Action by the City on two zone change requests have been deferred because of two separate "visits" to the City Hall made during the week by a delegation of residents of Sunberry Drive in Campbell.

The residents went to bat before the Planning Commission on Thursday and before the City Council on Monday and scored hits in both cases.

As a result two requests for zone changes, which the residents claim would have a detrimental effect on their street, have been held up pending further study of the situation.

Starts on Thursday

The action started last Thursday when residents of Sunberry Drive and other streets in the Sunberry Gardens subdivision appeared before the Planning Commission to protest the application of Philip W. Sondeno for a change of zone of four lots at Sunberry Drive and Kamson Way from single-family (R-1) residential to multiple-family dwelling (R-2).

Prior to the meeting, however, a petition signed by 26 residents of the area had been filed with the Commission protesting the change of zone and the cutting through of Sunberry Drive to Hamilton Ave.

Approximately half the residents of the streets were present at the meeting to voice their opposition to the change of zone. They claimed that by allowing apartments in the area, their homes would be devaluated and also the streets would be overtaxed from the increased traffic.

Sondeno, who ironically was the developer of the original tract and had sold many of those present the homes they were now "protecting" from his encroachment, was present at the meeting.

His attorney, William E. Watson told the Commission that the lots adjoined two other lots on Hamilton Ave. that recently had been changed to multiple dwelling zoning.

Sondeno States Reasons

Sondeno added that he felt it was necessary to have multiple dwellings rather than single-family residences on those lots because the proposed Dahl-Prestigiacomo subdivision extending from Winchester Road along Hamilton Ave. would have a R-2 zone adjacent to his property.

By a split vote (4 to 3) with Commissioners Hormer Hyde, Kenneth Priestley, Richard Salice and Ted Solari voting "yes" and Commissioners Les Harmon, Jim Tomlinson and Chairman Sam O'Brien voting "no", the matter was deferred until the April 18 meeting of the Commission. Those favoring the deferrment pointed out that the City Council would have acted on the Dahl-Prestigiacomo zoning by that time.

During the Planning Commission session approximately eight of the Snuberry tract residents were heard. These included, J. D. Russell, 426 N. Sunberry; William K. McLain, 316 N. Sunberry; P. R. Angell, 363 N. Sun- Sunberry; R. Pinkham, 248 W. Ken Circle; C. M. Johnson, 440 Sunberry Drive; R. H. Lee, 197 W. Ken Circle; Robert Downing, 425 Sunberry Drive and Mrs. W. P. Mertsching, 439 N. Sunberry Drive.

Second Appearance

The delegation made its second appearance at the City Hall on Monday at the City Council meeting. This time, however Dick Lee and Mrs. Mertsching acted as spokesman for the group in opposing the zone change request of Joe Dahl and S. Prestigiacomo for their property extending from Winchester Road along the projected Hamilton ave., to the Sunberry Gardens tract. The Dahl-Prestigiacomo request included both mutliple dwelling and commercial zones. The residents of Sunberry Drive objected to more than a lot depth of multiple dwelling units along Hamilton Ave.

Mrs. Mertsching spoke first, then was followed by Lee who supplemented his verbal protests with a map which illustrated the type of zoning of the area that the residents thought should be in effect.

Because the residents had raised a number of points with respect to the overall zoning picture, and also because there were a few minor differences to be ironed out between the Planners and the owners of the property, the City Council voted to send the entire Dahl-Prestigiacomo request back to the Planning Commission for further study.

On The Line in Campbell

A gasoline camp stove exploded Sunday, setting a small house trailer on fire at 521 So. San Tomas Aquino Road. The trailer was gutted by the flames and A. H. Lindsay of San Jose, owner of the trailer, narrowly escaped injury, firemen said, when the explosion occurred. The county fire department answered the call.

CAMPBELL IS IN THE CENTER ... Map shows section of Junipero Serra Freeway alternate routes as proposed by the Division of Highways last Thursday. A series of public hearings will precede decision of ultimate routes. Neither route interferes with Campbell. Route "A" is on the north and Route "B" is on the south.

Council Acts on Permits to Aid Old Settlers' Day

Campbell's City Council was in session until after midnight on Monday wading though the lengthy agenda that featured four public hearings (see separate story), reports from city department heads and a discussion on possible future annexations.

The City Council also "learned" officially for the first time that the 65th annual Old Settlers Day celebration, the second oldest in the state of California, was to take place on May 17-18-19.

During the course of the long evening the City Dads gave their somewhat reluctant blessing to the usual hanging of banners over the streets advertising the event. They also okayed the opperation of a caraval during the three days.

The Council also approved with some misgivings the traditional street parade for Sunday afternoon, May 19. Chief of Police Robert J. Locke objected to the Sunday afternoon parade because the heavy Santa Cruz traffic that moves through town on Sunday would have to be rerouted.

Doug Beatty, C. of C. president, told the Council that plans had been under way for months for the celebration, which included a Sunday parade, and it would be a difficult task to change them. He also added that a poll had been taken of the merchants after last year's parade and they had voted overwhelminly for a Sunday parade. He also said that the pastors of the local churches had been informed of the time of the parade and they had agreed to cooperate, although they naturally preferred Saturday.

Councilman Morton in moving the approval of the parade added that it was hoped in the future that the Council would be consulted before arrangements were made.

In other actions, the Council:

(1) Received $790.05 in State relief funds and $1,594.59 in sewer rentals and was notified that the City was to get $45,200 from the State for in lieu apportionments for the 1957-58 fiscal year.

(2) Adopted a resolution calling for bids for the David Ave. storm sewer at the crossing on Central Ave. where Route 5 will intersect. Bids will be opened April 22.

(3) Adopted final map of Los Ranchitos Unit 3 (23 lots)

(4) Heard a discussion on a proposed annexation of lots on Hacienda Ave. that would be joined to the City by a strip down Virginia Ave. Ken Taylor described what he and his partner, Eugene Raffelo, developers

State Unveils Possible New Freeway Routes

Neither one of the alternate routes for the proposed Junipero Serra freeway will interfere with present facilities in Campbell, Mark E. Thomas, city engineer, told the City Council Monday night. Campbell lies almost halfway between the two routes (see map.)

Thomas and Councilman Myron L. Fairchild attended the meeting in San Francisco last Thursday when the Division of Highways unveiled two alternate routings for the Junipero Serra Freeway from San Francisco to the Monterey Highway south of San Jose. More than 100 city and county officials were on hand when the plans for long-awaited freeway, the largest highway job in Penisula history, were unfolded.

One of the routes (Route "A") is estimated to cost $128.6 million while the other (Route "B") is estimated to cost $104 million.

Route "A" is the most northeasterly route that the Division considers feasible. The Division consider this route to give the best service to the area.

North of Campbell

This route would cut diagonally across the north portion of Campbell between Dutard and Clifton in a diagonal direction running approximately from Williams Road at Winchester to the new Route 5 Freeway at Dutard.

Route "B" is the most southwesterly route which the Division of Highways considers feasible for the reason that a location further to the southwest would not give sufficient service to the area.

This route runs approximately along the railroad right-of-way south of Campbell at Pollard and Winchester Roads. It does not touch the present city limits of Campbell but does run through Campbell's "sphere of infuence" from Quito Road to Pollard Road.

Thomas told the Council that still another route which was considered runs just north of Payne Avenue.

Favor Route "B"

It was reported that the cities of San Jose, Los Gatos and Saratoga expressed strong preference to Route "B" while Los Altos officials were unhappy about both of them. Los Altos is hard hit by the roads but of the two Route "B" is more preferred by that city.

The City Council referred the matter to the City Planning Commission, appointed Councilman Fairchild to continue to be watch-dog of developments of the routes and decided to study the matter before deciding which route to favor.

Planners Hear Industries Are Getting Anxious

Campbell City Planners heard the same story from two different parties last Thursday night to wit it is imperative that the requirements for the new industrial park be established as soon as possible so that industries will know what to do about them.

Sam Cava, secretary-manager of the Campbell Chember of Commerce, told the Planners, that some industries that originally had planned to locate here had pulled up stakes because they could not wait any longer to learn what would be required of them.

Industrialist Speaks

Jerry Jaffe, vice-president of the Cascade Reasearch Inc., one of the first firms to pick the industrial park as its new location told the Commissioners that his company needed to know within a short time what was what or it might be necessary to take other steps for expansion.

Commissioner Jim Tomlinson, explained that Campbell and Los Gatos were attempting to work out a joint agreement in the industrial park he said. It was expected to complete the joint agreement three weeks. Tomlinson with Commissioner Homer Hyde are the Campbell representatives on the joint committee.

Doug Beaty, president of the Campbell Chamber but representing Western Gravel at the meeting added that his company appealed to the Commission to expedite matters.

It was also announced that enough of the propety owners of the industrial area had signed the petititon requesting sewers to allow Sanitation District No. 4 to go ahead with the sewer project. Steve Goodman, sanitation district manager, estimated they should be installed by October of this year.

In other actions, the Commision:

(1) Approved by a 6 to 1 vote (Tomlinson voting "no") the request of Mr. and Mrs. Bert L. Burda for a zone change for their property the old Campbell Hatchery, at 60 Mission Way. The Burdas were represented at the meeting by William Harris, San Jose attorney.

(2) Approved plans for the

Churches to Mark Holy Week With Special Services

Holy Week and Easter observance of churches in the Campbell area will begin with Palm Sunday on April 14 and continue through Easter Sunday, April 21.

The liturgy of Holy Week will commence at St. Lucy's Church with the blessing and procession of palms before the 7 a.m. Mass on Sunday, April 14. The ceremony is a demonstration of allegiance to the kingship of Christ. The blessed palms will then be taken home by parishoners as a year long reminder of the event.

Other churches plan morning sermons appropriate to the day with special music by the choirs.

On Palm Sunday evening, the Methodist Church will hold a special Vesper service in which the four choirs of the church will sing the complete Easter story, from Palm Sunday through the Resurrection.

Almost all churches will hold worship services Thursday. To some it is Holy Thursday, to others it is Manudy Thursday.

The Congregational Church will observe Maundy Thursday at a communion service with Office of Tenebrae. This is a dramatic adaptation of an early 4th century office to which solemn observance of Holy Communion has been added.

A traditional Holy Thursday service will be held at the Methodist Church with sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Following the ancient custom of sitting at tables for this communion, tables will be arranged in the form of a cross with worshippers sitting around them and partaking of the Last Supper in the manner of the early Christians.

Holy Thursday will highlight the week at St. Lucy's Church with an evening Mass and a procession of the Blessed Sacrament afterwards. These are to commemorate the two great sacraments which were instituted at the Last Supper, the Holy Eucharist and Holy Orders.

School Trustees Have Week to Go

No new candidates for positions on the board of trustees of the four school districts in that Campbell area appeared on the scene this week with less than a week remaining before the filing deadline; April 17. The election on May 17.

Three candidates for the two vacant offices in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District have already been filed. They are, Harriett W. Mannina, an attorney; Norman A. Stoner, an attorney; and Howard R. Atkinson, a contractor.

Two vacancies exist on the Campbell High School Board. So far, only two candidates for two positions have filed, Joe V. Gomes, who has served on the board for 16 years and Willard Reid McAtee.

In the Cambrian School District, with one posiion to fill Jack Farnham, incumbent, has filed as has Mrs. Rosemarie G. Maxwell.

Moreland School District also has one vacancy. The incumbent George O. Robertson has not yet filed but James F. Riley has.

Director Answers Old Age Pension Questions

"The problems of the aged are receiving increased attention by legislators, public officials and many citizen groups. This is appropriate because science has made it possible for more people to live and enjoy retirement," George K. Wyman, Director, State Department of Social Welfare, said recently in making public the results of a survey that answered many questions about elderly people who receive old age assistance money grants.

Will California's phenomenal growth increase old age welfare rolls? Will the fact that people now live longer increase old age expenditures? Those are but two of the many questions the sample survey answered with a statistical glimpse into the future.

Questions Asked

Other popular questions are: Do elderly people flock to California? Are the old age welfare rolls growing? Is the aged program mostly for men? Or is the program mostly for aged married couples?

The list of questions is almost endless; other frequently asked questions are: Do recipients of aid live with relatives? Do many old people live in poorhouses? Do most of the old people live in rural areas? Does every old person need special care?

Do people apply for aid at the very crack of age 65? Is the program an automatic pension plan? Must people be paupers to receive aid? Are recipients of aid allowed to earn money or even to have money? Do the grants vary? Is everyone on the welfare rolls denied everything but the basic needs of life?

No one survey can answer all possible questions to everyone's satisfaction, but the "Significant Facts About Old Age Security Recipients" sample study does bring out into the open many answers and helps point the way for more efficient budgeting and improved methods to serve the needs of California's community life and its elderly people.

Contrary to the widespread belief that elderly persons flock to California to enjoy the famous weather here and to receive the benefits of California's old age assistance payments, it was found by the statewide survey that the average length of residence of recipients is a little over 33 years. In other words, they have been enjoying California's sun for a long time and have been active taxpayers for many years before applying for aid.

Significantly, the report reveals that of the 264,276 Californians in the Old Age Security program (OAS), an assistance money-grant plan, 68.7 per cent have lived in this state 20 years or longer and on the other end of the measure only six per cent have lived here less than 10 years.

Population Up

And despite the fact that California's population has reached 14,000,000 the all time high for people in the OAS program was in 1950 with 277,822 enrolled and the population 10,586,223 Since that date the rolls have been slowly but steadily declining (264,487 in February 1957).

The continued downward trend of OAS is due to the sustained high level of economic activity and to the liberalization of the Old Age and Survivors Insurance program (OASI) which both extended coverage and increased benefits.

Among the aged in the state's program it's a woman's world with 67 per cent of the recipients elderly women of an average age of 76. The ladies even have the edge on the men by being three one-hundredths of a year younger than the men, according to the sample average.

Of course, an important factor for the preponderance of women in the OAS program is that men have greater employment opportunities and proportionately more men are eligible for OASI—and also the ladies, according to statistics, live longer than men.

Old age can be lonely, if neglected. In answer to the often asked question, "Is the program mostly for aged married couples" the survey revealed that only 28 per cent of the oldsters were married and living with the spouse as compared with the general population census figure of 45 per cent being married couples.

Considering the women only, about 61 per cent were widowed and 13 per cent divorced or separated. In the "never married" column were five per cent of the ladies, with three times as many bashful men.

The survey does not support the view expressed by many people that the majority of recipients live with their kin. Whether they deliberately choose to be alone or circumstances force the issue, only 21 per cent live with their children.

It is still true that many old people live in poorhouses?" has been asked many times. The answer is "no," the over-the-hill-to- the-poorhouse days are gone and probably forever. The great majority of recipients live in houses, hotels, apartments, and boarding homes.

The type of dwelling (hotels, apartments, and boarding homes) is reflected in where most of the recipients choose to live—cities—which refutes the belief that most of the aged live in rural areas. Over 80 per cent live in population centers, that is, cities, and nearly one half live in the larger cities of 50,000 or more population. The strictly rural areas are called home by a few over six per cent.

"Does every old person need special care?" is another in the long list of questions. Californians who have reached the "three-score-plus" years seem to have retained with their years the strength that enabled them to help build this state; over 85 per cent of the recipients are able to care for themselves physically.

Only about three per cent are bedridden and 11 per cent are in need of special care because of physical or mental condition.

Another popular fallacy connected with the aged is the belief that everyone waits for the very crack of 65 and then immediately goes on aid. That is not so! The survey facts are: the average age of applicants for the OAS program is around 70 years.

Plan Not Automatic

The principal reason why people wait to apply is that the California aged welfare program is based on need and, therefore, the plan is not an automatic pension payoff. Many of the aged have some resources which make it possible to defer the time of application.

Using their resources does not mean that they must be reduced to pauperism before applying for old-age help. A person over 65, who is otherwise eligible, can own real estate property assessed at $5000 or less with personal property or money up to $1200 or $2000 in the case of married couples.

Retaining a home, however, modest, and some money or resources in reserve for unforseen events and forseen needs like burial, is an important factor in doing away with the misery of pauperism in the waiting-to-die, over the - hill - to-the-poorhouse relief programs of the past.

As a matter of hard cold fact the survey revealed that almost 75 per cent have some personal property consisting mainly of cash, securities, life insurance, burial insurance and even inexpensive motor vehicles.

The fact that the survey showed about 25 per cent as having no personal property does not mean that they do not have a stitch of clothing. The law provides that some of the items used in everyday life such as clothing, furniture, household equipment, foodstuffs and other things of that nature, need not be valued as personal property. Personal property is simply as stated above, securities, life and burial insurance, motor vehicles and reserves of cash.

But even the old people who do have personal property do not have very much; the reserve margin is slim, only an average of about $380, with 95 per cent having less than $1000. Undoubtedly forced sales would

Breakfast should be all sweetness and light to start the day off well.

But not at our house! Bill wakes up grumpy and needs at least two cups of coffee to feel human. If his bacon is cold or I cook the eggs too hard, even two cups of coffee won't do the trick.

I seldom buy anything big for the house without consulting Bill first, but this breakfast situation was becoming an emergency. So I marched right down to the appliance dealer and ordered an Estate gas range.

Reluctantly, Bill agreed to wait a couple of days before voicing any objections to my "impulse purchase," as he termed it. That was all I needed . . .

Before going to bed, I plugged our electric coffee maker into the automatically timed appliance outlet on the range and handed Bill a steaming cupful next morning before he shaved. Then I grilled bacon and eggs together on the big built-in griddle and served them sizzling hot just as he sat down at the breakfast table.

For dinner that night I went all-out to demonstrate the talents of my new range. I made shish-kabob on the automatic rotisserie in the barbecue meat oven, and used the adjacent bake oven for baked potatoes and an apple pie.

During dessert Bill waved his napkin like a white flag and said, "Okay, okay, the range stays. But did the Whirlpool-Seeger instruction book give you any reducing tips for overfed husbands?"

'Lily Day' This Saturday Aids Crippled Kids

Buy a lily Saturday and help a crippled child.

This is the plea of the Santa Clara County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, which will sponsor Lily Day this Saturday, in Campbell and throughout the County, in conjunction with the current Easter Seal Campaign.

Minature Easter lilies, made by handicapped persons, will be offered for sale on street corners in the Campbell business district where foot traffic is heaviest.

Donations of any amount will be accepted for the lilies.

With its goal set for $1500, Campbell residents now have contributed $542 towards the Easter Seal Campaign. County-wide goal is $41,000. County returns totalled $23,187 early this week.

Campbell chairman of both the Easter Seal Campaign and Lily Day is Mrs. Lowell Benson.

Funds raised on Lily Day and throughout the Easter Seal Campaign will be spent for services to crippled children and adults. These services include transportation for children with crippling handicaps, provision of appliances and equipment such as wheelchairs, walkers, etc., physical therapy, social service counseling, maintenance of a summer camp exclusively for crippled children, training and employment for the homebound, and a sheltered workshop.

Volunteers who will sell the minature lilies Saturday include members of a number of youth groups. The volunteers will be equipped with identifying arm bands and coin containers.

Young Couple Win Cadillac

There's one young married couple in town walking on air today and it's Harry and Barbara Perry Jr., of 166 N. Third St., winners of a blue and white 1957 hard-top Cadillac.

The young couple came into their good fortune a few days ago when they stopped at a Santa Clara service station for gas. While there Barbara casually checked the few tickets they held and discovered one to be a posted number which they assumed would be good for a toaster or some such small appliance. Instead, it proved to be the winning number for the Cadillic which was delivered to them Monday.

Since they are expecting an addition to their family next month, they plan to put the car up for sale immediately and use the cash to make a down payment on a home.

Responsibility walks hand in hand with capacity and power.

LAW IN ACTION

CIVIL DEATH

Suppose the crafty Odysseus lived today and took ten years after the war to find his way home to Persephone? (Mind you, after those scandalous years with that cave girl, Calypso.)

Well, sir, he might find Mrs. Odysseus ensconsed as the richest widow on the Isle of Ithaca.

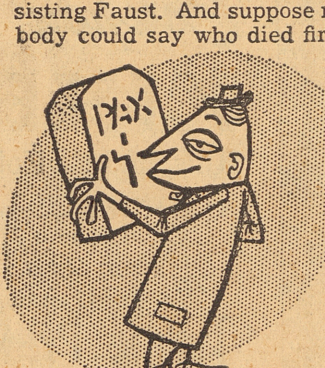
For suppose somebody vanishes today without word for seven years. His heirs or business associates—to clear up his affairs—may go into court on the assumption that he is dead and have the court distribute his estate.

Why make such assumptions? For the sake of untangling vital affairs and conserving property, so that the world can go on.

There is nothing magical about seven years. In wartime or in like situations, for example, a person unaccounted for, or unheard of, for a shorter time may be presumed to be dead. Though now and then such a person, like the hapless Odysseus, turns up.

Today with the massacre on our highways, California assumes certain things about people who die in a common disaster, in order to wind up their affairs and bring about a just result.

Suppose that ever-loving couple, Baucis and Philemon, out of affection, made criss-cross wills, only to die in a flood—a common disaster—resisting Faust. And suppose nobody could say who died first.



Then California courts—to settle their estates—would assume the impossible, that each outlived the other.

1. Baucis' separate property—the farm on the sea marshes her father willed her and the wages she earned before she married—would go to her kinfolks (or as she directed in her will). The courts would assume that she outlived her husband. Likewise the property Philemon had before marriage would go to his kin, on the grounds that he had outlived her.

2. The same with their insurance policies.

3. As to their community property and joint tenancy property, the law would assume that each owned one-half separately, and that each had outlived the other.

Note: California lawyers offer this column for you to know about our laws.

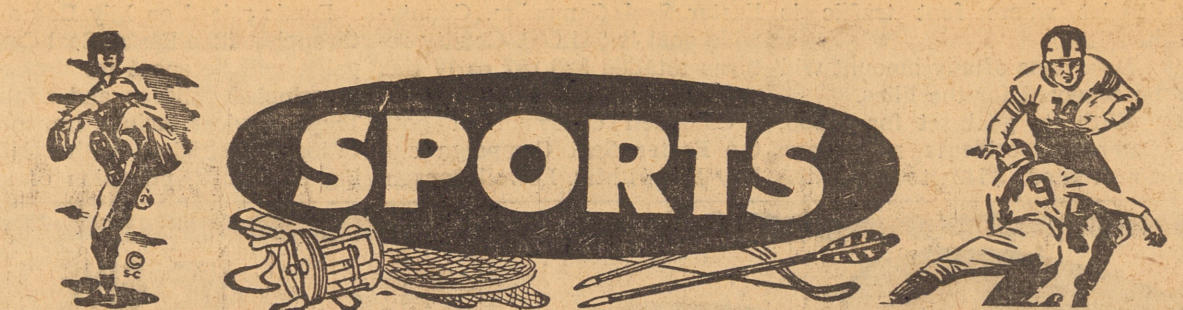
Profit Loses Match To S.F. Weight-man

Mike Profit, Campbell's ace shot putter, placed second to San Francisco's Mike Lewis in a northern California rivalry at the El Cerrito relays last Saturday afternoon.

Lewis posted a 61 foot 2 inch toss to overshoot Profit by one foot. Mike put the shot 60 feet 2 and 3/5 inches. In defeating Profit Lewis became the seventh best prep shot putter of all time in California.

L. C. Shields of Washington High in San Francisco fouled at 60 feet in his bid to catch Profit and Lewis. Next week the two will meet again at the Davis Picnic to try to push the iron ball over the 61 foot 6 inch mark.



Campbell High Takes Camden In Track, Baseball, Swimming

By Richard Ferguson

On the cinder track, on the diamond and in the swimming pool the Campbell Buccaneers took the measure of their little brothers from Camden Friday afternoon at Campbell.

In the track events the Bucs downed the Cougars 72 2/3 to 49 1/3 in a fine showing by both aggregations. On the diamond, Roger Almquist went all the way, while giving up only four hits, to thump the Cougars 5-2. Swamping the Cougars in the pool 58- 9 the Bucs remained undefeated in competition this year.

Camden Speedster Wins

Jerry Ramos proved his ability as he defeated Monty Nielsen of Campbell in both the 100-yard dash and the 220 with times of 10 flat and 22.7 going around a curve. Shot-putter Mike Profit fouled on a 59 foot toss but won the event with his second best toss of 56 ft. 2 3/4 inches.

Gregg Hoffman captured the top spot in the 880 with Bob Bridge making it 1-2 Campbell wih his arm still in a sling with his chipped shoulder. Campbell whipped the Camden relay squad but failed to meet the Cougars best time of 1:33.7 running the distance in 1:35.5. The grueling 440 was captured by Nino Martinez of Campbell with LeRoy States and Larry Tyrell placing second and third in the mile run behind Nordin of Camden.

Jerry Shenefiel placed first in the broad jump at 21' 1½" and also third in the 440. Campbell brought down the two top spots in the hurdle events with Hill taking the high hurdles and Alvarez leading the field in the 140 yard low hurdles. Tuttle and Wall tied at 10-6 in the pole vault to add a few points to the Buc cause.

Vince Sanfillipo and Gary Prnjak finished second and third to Murphy in the discus while Castle was winning the hop-step-jump event at 38-7.

In class B competition the Campbell team almost duplicated the varsity score with their 72-50 trouncing of the Camden squad. The C's also won 56-39 but the D's were trounced 62½ to 23½.

Bucs Baseballers Win

Roger Almquist led the Bucs with his four-hit pitching in their victory on the diamond 5-3, quelling a late rally which would have changed the score in Camden's favor.

Campbell scored one run in the first inning on Ben Lujan's single, followed by a single by Hector Cordova on which Lujan made it home on a close play. Bill Kinsey knocked out a homer for the Cougars in the top half of the second inning pounding the long ball through the right field slot.

Lee Wilson hit into a beautiful double play for the Bucs as he dropped a short bouncer to second baseman Dave LaBarbera who forced Warren at second and Wilson at first.

Jim Corbus slammed the third pitch served up by Camden pitcher Tom DiPollino over the head of the right fielder for a home run to score Campbell's only run in the second inning.

Little Ron Sauer of the Cougars knocked out one of his two triples in the top of the third inning and slid home on the first pitch to the lead-off hitter Ezzie. Almquist had a hard time pitching to Camden's baseballers as few were much taller than 5-6.

Although collecting two hits in the bottom of the third canto the Bucs failed to score as the Cougars cut the rally off short with a quick play to third on a steal by LaBarbera and two pop flys by Gene Bowen and Hector Cordova.

With the score knotted 2-2 going into the sixth inning the Camden mittmen began to knock the ball into the field. Three men made the free trip to first base as Almquist tired after pitching seven innings.

Campbell saved the game from going into extra innings in the bottom of the sixth inning on John Kriewall's two on, two out, three- and two pitch homer down the center. Jim Corbus was on second with a single followed by Hector Cordova's walk.

A single scored a run boosting the score to 5-3 with three men still on the bags and one out to go. On the second pitch John Kriewall picked up a soft roller down the first base and relayed the ball to Almquist covering first to preserve the Bucs 5-3 victory.

Bucs Sink Cougars

Swamping the Cougar Swimmers in almost every contest the Campbell tankmen scored an easy 58-9 victory. They took the first spot in every race.

Entering two swimmers officially in every race and two unofficial strokers, the Bucs could have taken one-two-three in almost every heat as all four of their men usually came in ahead of Camden's competition. Steve Skold was an entire pool length ahead of the Cougar swimmer in the 200 yard medley.

Tim Gallagher won the first race of the afternoon capturing the top spot in the 50 yard free style with Dick Dunlop a close second. John Duncan placed first in the breast stroke four yards ahead of Mike Scroggins for Campbell's share of the race. Jim Mitchell finished three feet ahead of Camden's entry in the 100 yard back stroke in the closest race of the meet.

Steve Skold became a two time winner for the Bucs as he capured the 150 yard individual medley along with his 200 yard free style win. Don Peterson swam to victory in the 100 yard free style with John Davenport close on his heels.

Chuck Ivie notched his no loss record again as he captured the diving event with his team mate Dick Sundt in the second spot. Jim Omura, Mike Powell, Dale Sutton and Jim Lewellen captured the top spot for the Bucs in the 200 yard medley relay with Tim Gallagher, Don Peterson, Doug Campbell, and Dave Andre topping Camden in the 200 yard free style relay.

Jack Guio paced the Campbell B's to their victory over the Camden B's 47-27 with his 100 yard free style win and also his first place in the individual medley race.

Bucs Beat Fremont by 6-4 Count to Gain in SCVAL Race

By Richard Ferguson

Winning their third game in as many starts the Campbell Buccaneers thumped the Fremont Indians 6-4 on the winners diamond Tuesday afternoon. Catching fire after a poor opening, the Bucs now post a three-win one loss record in league play to hold down the second spot.

Campbell sparkled in the field. One of its two double plays of the game nipped a rally in the bud before it had advanced as far as second base.

The Bucs ran into a different type pitching as Fremont's Reem hurls the ball with a side arm twist. Lead-off batter Lujan popped out to second base but this paved the way for Dave Labarbera who drew the first of three walks given up by Reem.

Don Kitajima beat a well placed bunt to first base to advance LaBarbera to second. Gene Bowen connected on a two-two pitch for a triple to score both LaBarbera and Kitajima. Hector Cordova and Jim Corbus each picked up a walk but failed to cross home plate as Jim Cole and Tony Zanotto flied out to second.

Cole walked Fremont's first batter who failed to get past first. He was thrown out trying to steal second and his two following batters were thrown out vainly trying to squeeze a single out of the tough Campbell infield.

John Kriewall and Ben Lujan each drew walks in the bottom of the second inning with both players reaching home plate as Don Kitajimi tried to stretch a single into a double giving Kriewall just enough time to cross the plate standing up.

Gene Bowen picked up his third RBI of the game by singling over third driving in Kitajimi and boosting the score 4-0 for Campbell. Hector Cordova drew a walk and Jim Corbus pulled a double scoring Cordova on a pop fly that was dropped by the pitcher. Jim Cole tallied the third out with a short bounder to the first baseman.

Struggling to prevent a shutout the Indians got a little over anxious in the top of the third inning and went down on a double play short-to-second-to-first.

Neither team scored again until the top of the sixth with Fremont bringing across two runs on a single, a walk, and another single. Jim Corbus fired a perfect peg to LaBarbera at second to prevent a stolen base and cut the Indians off with only two runs.

Fremont pulled a double play of its own in the bottom of the sixth when Hector Cordova knocked a hit to second with Gene Bowen on first. Tony Ochoa drew a walk from a new pitcher Wilson in the sixth but John Kriewall went down swinging to end the inning.

Two runs were brought across the plate by the Indians in the top of the seventh and final inning with both runs coming home on overthrows by catcher Jim Corbus to third base.

Jim Cole went the distance for the Bucs giving up 11 singles, walking seven men, and striking out four Indians. The losing pitcher, Reem walked 12 Campbell men, struck out two. Five singles, one double and a triple were scored off him.

Camden Tennis Team Turns Back Campbell

Winning the only team victory of the day for Camden, the tennis team swamped the Bucs 6-1 on the losers court last Thursday.

Although a team victory for Camden, Coach Frederick Gugat of Campbell still can take pride in the winning team. His sons, Richard and Kevin, of Camden defeated Campbell opponents and two of his summer players also came out on top.

Richard Gugat thumped Gene Andres of Campbell 6-4, 6-3, while brother Kevin Gugat defeated Art Hill in three sets 7-9; 6-3; 6-3: Ron Dodd stopped Don Johnson of Campbell 4-6, 7-5, 6-2 with Pete Bowen downing Don Brown to round out Camden's victory in the singles matches.

Terry Garrison won the only singles match for Campbell with a 6-1, 0-6, 6-4 victory over Richmond Strokes.

In the doubles matches, Powell and Mortenson were thumped 6-3 and 7-5 by Imrie and Woodside of Camden with Weber and Batchelder falling to Camden's Morris brothers 6-4, 6-3.

The kick-off event will be the Queen Dance, April 13 at the Live Oak Inn. Chairman 'Bus' Benson reports that response is very good

Dodgers Trade

The Philadelphia Phillies filled their shortstop vacancy by taking Chico Fernandez from the Brooklyn Dodgers in trade for outfielder Elmer Valo, hurler Ron Negray, and three lesser players and an estimated $75,000. Going to Brooklyn will be Melvin Geho, shortstop, Tom Harkness, 1st baseman and a fifth player to be named later.

Rookie Stars for Yanks

Tony Kubek came through in the clutch for the N. Y. Yankees Sunday by hitting a 10th inning single to edge the Red Sox 3-2. Last week Kubek singled home the payoff Yankee run in the 9th of a 1-0 game against Boston.

Golf

Doug Ford won the Masters Golf Tourney with a six under par 66. Sam Snead came in second, Jimmy Demaret third and Harvie Ward fourth.

Spring training is just about over and it won't be long before we can be in full swing baseball with all our early guesses for the pennant race. Even at this early date the Yanks look good. That's all for now.

Kids' Penny Hunt Set for Saturday

Once again, the row of merchants on the corner of Meridian Road and Hamilton Ave. are planning a penny hunt for the young fry instead of the traditional Easter egg hunt. It's more fun.

Saturday morning, April 13, merchants will set up a haystack in the parking area in front of their covered walk and load it with pennies.

As before, to give children of all ages a fair chance, specific hours have been set aside for a half hour hunt for the various age groups. The hours are as follows:

Kids from 8 to 12 years, 9:30 to 10 a.m.

Kids from 6 to 7 years, 10 to 10:30 a.m.

Toddlers to 4 years, 10:30 to 11 a.m.

Merchants sponsoring the event are Lia's Fashion, Kearn's Variety, Lederman Florist, Marian's Creamery, Joli's Lad and Lassie, Payless Cleaners and Avila's Market, across the street, on the southwest corner of Hamilton.

Six Additional Counties Get on Sales Tax Wagon

Retailers in six additional California counties and 29 additional cities started to pay locally-imposed sales taxes to the State Board of Equalization on taxable sales made on April 1. This will bring the total number of local governments for which the State is collecting such taxes to 262, of which 34 are counties and 228 are cities.

In the second quarter of 1957, the locally-imposed sales taxes of Glenn, Madera, Marin, Modoc, Placer, and Stanislaus Counties, together with those of their 26 cities and of 3 newly incorporated cities in counties that previously had contracted, will be state-administered for the first time.

Over four-fifths of the State's taxable retail sales will be subject to locally-imposed state-administered taxes during the second quarter. The Board estimates that it will collect $38,000,000 of local taxes on sales made in this period, $32,000,000 of which will go to cities and $6,000,000 to counties.

Local sales taxes in the 34 counties whose sales tax ordinances will be in effect during this quarter will be collected at a uniform one percent rate, the only rate which counties are authorized to levy. Retailers will remit 4 per cent of their taxable sales to the State Board of Equalization, 1 per cent of which is the local tax and 3 per cent the state tax.

Situated outside the 34 counties that will be taxing sales in the second quarter are 110 cities. Almost two thirds of these will be collecting their own sales tax imposed at a rate of 1 per cent—the only local sales tax rate now in effect in California cities. Fewer than 45 cities in the State, accounting for around 2 per cent of the State's population, will levy neither

Drivers Towing Vehicles Often Become Speeders

Violations of speed regulations by drivers of passenger cars towing trailers or other vehicles, and light trucks towing trailers are increasing according to information released by the California Highway Patral.

"During 1956 the Patrol issued 6,056 citations for violations of the speed laws governing the towing of trailers by drivers of passenger cars and trucks weighing under 4,000 pounds," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "This represents an increase of 29 per cent as compared to 1955.

"Motorists must remember that whenever a passenger motor vehicle regardless of weight or commercial motor vehicle weighing less than 4,000 pounds is drawing a trailer coach, trailer, semitrailer, or other type vehicle, the maximum speed shall not at any time exceed 45 miles per hour subject to other and more restrictive limits as established by law," Caldwell stated.

"The Patrol is always ready to answer questions concerning traffic laws and regulations," he concluded. "Stop by any of our field offices for further information on the use of trailers."

BSE

Millions of women write this cryptic note on their calendars every month. It reminds them that this is the day to practice a life-saving technique.

You see, these are the fortunate women who saw our film BREAST SELF-EXAMINATION and learned a simple method of examining their breasts for possible signs of cancer. They learned, too, that most cancers are curable if discovered early and treated properly—that, indeed, many a woman has actually saved her own life by practicing BSE. But the present cure rate of 46% could be increased if more breast cancers were detected and treated early. That is why we urge every woman to see the film BREAST SELF-EXAMINATION and learn this simple technique. You can arrange to screen the film at your club, your community center, at your plant or office.

American Trust Company new bank building by a 6 to 1 vote and granted a parking variance by a unanimous vote for the new bank to be located on the southwest corner of Campbell Avenue and Second Street. Commissioner Ted Solari made the motion for the granting of the parking variance.

Prior to the 6 to 1 vote approval (Chairman Sam O'Brien voted "no") of the building plans on the motion of Commissioner Kenneth Priestley. Considerable discussion took place over the proposed driveway and the "jog" was recommended by the city engineer for both the street and sidewalk in front of the new bank. The commissioners by their vote tossed out the jog, approving the plans as presented by the bank officials.

HAPPY BRIDE AND GROOM . . . Shown making the first cut in their wedding cake are Lt. and Mrs. Henry J. Ramp, Jr., who were married last month in Merced. The bride is the former Margaret Brooks of Merced.

Henry Ramp and Margaret Brooks Recite Vows in Merced Ceremony

Planning a future home in Tucson, Arizona, after their March 16 wedding in Our Lady of Mercy Church of Merced, California, are Lt. and Mrs. Henry James Ramp, Jr. The mid-afternoon rites were performed before a flower-banked altar by the Rev. Father Strittmater.

The bride is the former Margaret Judith Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd L. Brooks of Merced and sister of Diane Brooks. She is a graduate of Merced Union High School and will graduate in June from San Jose State College where she is an education major and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority.

Henry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry James Ramp, Sr., of 162 Bland Ave., Campbell, and brother of Robert Ramp. He is a graduate of Campbell High School, where he was class Valedictorian and Student Body president, and San Jose State College where he majored in business administration and is past president of Theta Chi Fraternity. He is past president of Spartan Shields, an honorary service organization, a member of the Arnold Honorary Air Society, served on the Student Body Council and was president of Spartan Camp. At the present time he is 2nd Lt. in the U.S. Air Force and stationed at Marana Air Base, Tucson, Arizona.

For her wedding, Margaret selected a waltz-length gown of embroidered organdy with sweetheart neckline and cap sleeves accented with pearls and styled with bouffant skirt. Her finger-tip illusion veil was caught to a coronet of pearls and she carried a white prayer book marked with a spray of cymbidium and stephanotis when escorted to the altar by her father.

Maid of honor was Diane Brooks, sister of the bride, who wore a waltz-length white organdy with bouffant skirt which featured a pale blue cummerbund and a crown of blue and white daisies with tiny blue veil on her hair. She carried a bouquet of blue and white daisies.

Bridesmaids gowned identically with the maid of honor were Sally Ferris, Mary Jane Oakland and Mrs. Kirsten Kidd.

Robert Ramp, brother of the groom, performed the duties of best man. Bill Dubbin, Bill Lynn, James Carey, Dick Quin and Burnie Thomasen served as ushers.

Vocalist was Susan Selb and organist was William Fisher.

Mrs. Brooks, mother of the bride, wore an ashes of roses gown of peau de soie and lace with matching hat and corsage of white orchids.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Ramp wore a flowered pastel silk taffeta and navy jacket with pink accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Merced Women's Club where the young couple received felicitations from three hundred guests. A springtime decor was carried out with pink, blue and white flowers with net and organdies. The elaborate flower-wreathed four-tiered wedding cake was centered on the Bride's table draped with pale blue net over white.

After the reception, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip to Carmel. Upon the bride's graduation from college in June Lt. and Mrs. Henry Ramp will make their home near the Marana Air Base in Arizona.

Modern Dancers Perform for PTA

Modern Dance groups of Campbell High School performed for 800 members of the Sixth District PTA attending the annual dinner held Monday evening at the County Fairgrounds.

Mrs. Virginia Jennings, class instructor, explained the program and techniques of the dance while the groups demonstrated. Following her talk, the girls performed several dances they had composed to the piano accompaniment of Mrs. Lillian Giskin.

At the dinner meeting, Milton Babitz, state adult education consultant, stressed the importance of parent education and of parents learning how to guide their children. He cited the Campbell PTA parent education program as a good example to be followed by other districts.

Another speaker was Mrs. Wyland R. Morgan of Campbell, who spoke on juvenile protection.

EDITORIAL

It's Good for Both

The 65th annual Old Settlers Day celebration will take place in Campbell May 17-18-19.

The Press feels that all of us should have a strong feeling of commmunity pride in the fact that the Old Settlers Day event is the second oldest celebration in the state of California. Only the Pasadena Tournament of Roses surpasses the local celebration in point of years.

We are pleased that the Campbell Chamber of Commerce has seen fit to sponsor the annual event as we feel that the celebration fills a need for this community.

It provides a common meeting ground where old-timers can meet the new-timers. This, we feel, is important in a community such as Campbell where there has been a tremendous growth in recent years and newcomers now far outnumber old settlers.

Newcomers to this community should be happy to have the opportunity to learn something about, the past of their town.

Long-time residents, on the other hand, should welcome the chance to meet these newcomers who are making the "New Campbell."

How Else Will You Find Out?

One of the most valid arguments for a community newspaper was inadvertently given the other night at the City Council meeting by a spokesman for a group of local residents.

The individual was presenting the case of the residents of Sunberry Drive who opposed any zoning change of Sunberry Drive that would allow multiple dwellings in their area. The spokesman apologized to the Council for the opposition being voiced so belately by the people on the matter. He said that he had not known about the matter previously.

When asked by a member of the City Council if he subscribed to The Campbell Press he gave a negative answer. The point was then raised as to how he expected to be informed of the community activities if he did not read the community's only newspaper. It is only in the community newspaper that these points of interest to local residents can be found. No other medium has the space, time, or interest to do justice to the situation.

It is your community newspaper's responsibility to serve as a watch dog for your interests and also to inform you of what is going on in your town. We admit that there is room for improvement in our coverage but we are making a sincere effort to fulfill the function of conscientious newspaper. We feel we are doing a pretty fair job under the circumstances and we will continually strive to do better.

It was emphasized during the presentation of the objections of the residents of Sunberry Drive that it was felt that home-owners had more of a community interest at heart than apartment owners.

It was also pointed out that the 38 residents of the street had put their roots down in Campbell and were taking an interest in all community activities. They felt this was an important advantage over apartment house dwellers who, as a rule, were not interested in the community in which they lived.

We are in no position to judge which type of resident has the most community-interest. We doubt very much if anyone can actually prove such an academic question. Our point, however, is a selfish one purely and simply.

We feel that reading the community paper is a must for anyone who lives or works in the community. We think it is logical that those who live in a community should want to be informed of what is going on in their town because, after all, they ARE the town.

Although the spokesman for the residents admitted that he was not a reader of The Campbell Press, fortunately that did not hold true among his fellow residents in the street.

A hasty check of our records revealed that one out of three persons on the street is a subscriber to The Press.

That's a starter. It is satisfying to know that at least one-third of the residents of the street read what's going on in town.

Let's hope they all are on speaking terms with their neighbors.

Over the Years

By John D. Blaine

Again I am looking back over the years in pages of this souvenir book to which I made reference on April 4th. This time it is with special attention to problems of Campbell youth.

The difference between then and now is so great that at first it may seem hard to believe.

In 1895 Campbell had no high school. Teen-age youth above elementary school grades had no tax-supported education or recreation. Into this gap stepped the local members of the Y. M. C. A.

On page 164 of the book I read: "Campbell has a Young Men's Christian Association, which owns a building with a large auditorium, furnished with a gymnasium and a small library. The President is John F. Duncan, and the Secretary, John Blaine, Jr."

First Auditorium

The building, however, was not ours. It was loaned to us by Campbell Hall Association, builders of the first auditorium in htetown. The hall was at first used cooperatively. By 1895 various local organizations had their own buildings. So the old hall was just right for the uses of the "Y." We were even allowed to have our name painted on it.

Our gymnasium equipment was good and very complete. The boys had no reason for complaint here. The room was open for use five evenings a week, and for one of this evenings we supplied a paid instructor. A back room was open on the same five evenings for library reading and table games. One member of an entertainment committee was in charge every evening.

At first our project was popular and seemed successful. But gradually the boys got out of control. More and more they made a project of disturbing the peace. Efforts to discipline them increased their fun. In their hilarity they broke our game boards over each others' heads.

Eventually a few of us met and disbanded our organization. I well recall the reluctance with which Mr. Duncan presided at this action. Our project was a dream that did not come true.

Interestingly, a dream that did come true was initiated by William R. George, founder of celebrated George Junior Republic who estbalished in the state of New York his highly successful project in 1895, the publication date of this souvenir book. I read a book by him telling his own story. His project, too, failed at the first. Suddenly the idea struck him to make his enterprise self-governing. As such his undertaking for the good of youth acquired national fame.

Controlling Teenagers

Over the years I have read about various other projects of controlling teenage boys by letting them control themselves. One of the most remarkable is from my view the English secondary schools for gentlemen's sons. These schools are disciplined mainly by the two upper classes, or "forms."

The discipline is incredibly severe. Our American "democratic" society would not tolerate it in a public school system for a moment. Imagine juniors and seniors of a high school flogging freshmen and sophomores. In our country parents of the lower class boys would flock to the schools in protest. But in England the parents are not around. The boys live at the schools and are in a sense helpless.

The parents don't even know, except theoretically, what is going on. In writing to their homes the lower form boys do not complain. Such weak action would be bad social form. It just isn't done. A boy who complained to his parents would not socially rate.

Why do parents tolerate such schools? These schools are not compulsory. They are not even tax-supported. Parents have to pay the full cost. The chief purpose of these schools is to produce high social rating and stout character. For these qualities in their children upper class English are willing to pay a high price.

No High School in '95

Back in 1895, as I have said, Campbell had no high school. Our Union High School was organized in 1900. That same John F. Duncan was one of the moving spirits and first president of the board. All of us who had backed the Y.M.C.A. movement now backed the Union High School. And all we had tried to do for Campbell youth, and more, is now done by tax-supported compulsory education.

In character education results have been somewhat disappointing. Suggestion has been made that some teen-agers need operation woodshed. Shall we, as social elite English do, put operation woodshed in charge of juniors and seniors? Will parents stand for that? Parents are afraid to undertake operation woodshed themselves. Their big athletic sons might reverse the charges.

Perhaps more on this general subject coming up.

Rotary Gets Dope On S.J. Baseball

An impassioned plea on behalf of baseball in the San Jose area was heard by Rotary members Monday when Eddie Duino, sports writer for the San Jose Mercury-News, addressed the club.

Duino said the San Jose Josox are desperately in need of local support and cited a 45,000 atendance with a loss of $22,000 suffered last year when the association needs at least a 100,000 attendance to break even.

Continuing, Duino said a major factor in failing attendance is the graduation of local Josox into major leagues. Little Leaguers, he pointed out, need the spirit backing which a good state League contributes to youngsters.

This year, in an attempt to recoup losses and spur attendance, the association will give two free tickets with every $1 membership sold.

Next meeting will be Club Assembly set for 7:30 p.m. next Monday at Live Oak Inn.

50 YEARS AS CITY

Los Banos will celebrate its 50th birthday as an incorporated city in conjunction with the Merced County Spring Fair and the "It's May Day In Los Banos" festival from May 1 to May 5.

OUT on the LIMB

George Vierhus

We learned this week that since the time the Campbell elementary school district was combined with a number of other elementary districts to form a union district, there has been an understanding of sorts of how the areas should be represented on the five-member board.

In a sense you might call it an informal "borough system".

There is nothing in writing, of course, but throughout the years this sectionalized method of representation, we understand, has worked out quite satisfactorily.

From what we can gather, two of the board members are supposed to represent the central part of Campbell, one the San Tomas area, one from the northern part of the district, and one from the northeast.

Or something like that.

It has been a very satisfactory arrangement, as we said. Apparently the various sections have been represented and the union district has operated with a minimum of bickering stemming from any sectional hassles.

—o—

When Bill Means and Don Hartman, incumbent board members, decided not to run again for office, Howard Atkinson, a Campbell contractor, was prevailed upon to file in Bill's place and Norman A. Stoner, a San Jose attorney who lives on Walnut Drive, Campbell, in Hartman's. Thus keeping everything in balance as per usual.

However, Harrett W. Mannina, 1470 St. Francis Drive, San Jose another attorney, has also filed for the office. This has thrown things out of kilter a wee bit because his area is already represented on the board.

Mannina was among those residents who last fall objected to the school board's policy of providing bus transportation for children in the Dover School area.

We are convinced that this so-called impromptu "borough system" has considerable merit. However, we also agree that unless this "zoning" is well defined and not just an unwritten rule, there is nothing to keep any person from filing for the office of trustee as long as he lives in the district.

We do feel, however, that this informal zoning system should cut down the intra-district batties to a great extent.

—o—

When Vince Vallelunga and Clifford Gerlach, former neighbors on Harrison St. in Campbell faced each other in court last week as an aftermath of a Christmas Day fight between the two, some of the spectators of the trial wondered out loud who was "keeping the store" as far as patrolling the highway was concerned.

Gerlach is a highway patrolman, and quite a number of his fellow officers were on constant attendance at the trial. The number of patrol cars parked by the court and the number of officers at the trial made quite an impression on some of the other spectators.

We can't help wondering how much of an impression these officers in uniform made on the jury.

Loyalty for a fellow-worker is a fine thing. But it isn't always possible to be able to express this loyalty so visibly. It is something to remember.

—o—

The advantages of living in California have certainly been evident during recent weeks, climatically speaking, that is.

Reading of the tornados, blizzards and hurricanes, etc. that are taking place in other places is enough to make us feel quite satisfied with our lot as a Californian of long-standing. (What's a little shaking now and then via the earthquake method?)

We couldn't help thinking how great it was to be living in California when we passed the high school tennis courts the other night at 10:30.

The lights were on and two of the courts were filled by enthusiastic tennis players. (The night air was balmy and it WAS a good night for tennis even if it was only the first of April.)

We read next morning of the blizzards that were sweeping other parts of the country.

For sure no one in those particular states asked, "Anyone for tennis?"

—o—

Burglars generally operate in the dead of night after the store is locked and the owner and clerks have gone home.

But we heard from Mr. and Mrs. Art Hill, who operate Smitty's Produce at Winchester Road and Latimer Ave. about a burglarly that followed a different format altogether. While preparing to go home the other night, the Hills stuck the day's receipts in a sack and put the sack in the front seat of their car which was parked by the stand. They then finished closing down the place and then drove home.

In the morning when they opened their place of business, they went to get the money sack from the car. But no sack.

They claim it was impossible for anyone to take the sack out of the car at their home. Therefore, the burglarly had to take place in the 15 minutes, more or less, that elapsed while they put the finishing touches on their closing-up operations.

Remarkable timing on the part of the burglar, we must say.

A one block detour on Winchester Road was in force this week as crews completed the sewer line work on the west side of the road. Winchester Road was expected to be opened again this evening.

In a way we felt complimented when we were informed by the city engineer's office last Friday that the detour was going into effect on Monday; even if it was too late to warn our readers of the fact last issue, and it wouldn't do any good to inform them in this issue.

The guy from Mark Thomas' office explained he thought we were publishing a daily when we informed him that his message had arrived too late to do much good.

New Law Defines Station Wagons

Capitol News Service

A bill introduced in the assembly would define station wagons in the Motor Vehicle Code and provide owners of such vehicles would pay normal registration fees unless they hauled persons or freight for hire.

The bill, AB4136 by Assemblyman Frank Luckel (R- San Diego), is designed to clear up some confusion which has resulted from recent enforcement by the California Highway Patrol. The CHP had adopted a policy of citing any station wagon owners with passenger automobile registration who hauled goods in their vehicles which normally were hauled by for-hire trucks.

In other words, while it was all right for a housewife to take her groceries home from the super market in her station wagon, it was considered illegal to use the wagon to haul grass clippings, lumber, or other building materials which commercial trucks might haul.

Luckel's bill would define a station wagon in the code as a dual purpose vehicle which is designed for the transportation of persons and is also designed in such a manner that the seats may be removed or folded out of the way for the purpose of increasing the property carrying space within the vehicle."

However, the bill also provides the exemption from payment of weight fees

Remember these young-looking women? Each appeared in recent P. G. and E. advertisements which made the point that women certainly look younger than their years these days!

Of course there are many reasons for this, but one big one is modern household appliances: They've taken over most of the heavy chores that used to age women long before their time.

Frankly, we're proud of the part our company plays in all this: With P. G. and E.'s low rates for gas and electricity, you can run a houseful of appliances all day for about half the price of a lipstick!

ON CAPITOL HILL

By Representative Charles S. Gubser

When I started writing "On Capitol Hill" four years ago, I resolved not to edit facts for the purpose of influencing public opinion to suit my own purposes. I think I've succeeded and it hasn't been too tough. Why, then, can't others do the same

Certain columnists and organizations have created the impression that the Eisenhower budget is out-Newdealing the New Deal in its requests for government spending. One organization compares the 1950 budget with this year's version: In 1950, the budget was close to forty billion. The President's request this year is for 71.8 billion. Conclusion: Eisenhower is a spendthrift! . . . These are facts to be sure, but do they support the conclusion? Let's look at all the facts.

The 1950 Defense budget was 13 billion; this year it is 43 billion, an increase of 30 billion. Add this to the 1950 budget and you have a figure practically as high as what President Eisenhower has requested of Congress. Why so much more for Defense? In 1950 a bomber cost 3.7 million; today it costs 8 million. A fighter plane cost $300,000; today's version costs 1½ million. The supercarrier FORRESTAL cost 200 million, the next atomic carrier will cost 314 million. A submarine used to cost us $100 per horsepower mile. The atomic-powered NAUTILUS costs us $2500 per horsepower mile. Guided missiles, atomic weapons, radar and electronic gadgets were few and far between eight years ago. Today our military bristles with them and they aren't cheap!

Non-defense expenditures in 1958 will be about a billion more than 1950. Why? Let's take two examples. Last year, Congress extended social security payments to millions of new people and increased the work of the Agency 116%. Did we double our employees working on Social Security? No. The increase was 59%. In eight years, mail volume has increased 33% and is handled by just a 10% increase in employees.

In 1950, government spent 20% of our gross national product. In 1958, it will spend 16%. Furthermore, government now serves 170 million people compared to the 151 million who looked to Washington in 1950.

Looking at all the facts, here is my interpretation. If there is a spendthrift in the woodpile, it isn't Eisenhower, it is Congress. It was the elected representatives of the people who voted increased services to a population which has mounted by nineteen million. It was Mr. Eisenhower who rendered them at no extra cost. It was Congress which kept the budget up when it might have been cut!

I am not defending the Eisenhower budget, in fact I intend to do my part in cutting it as sensibly as I can. But for the record, let's get our facts straight —all of them!

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. You can give your garden a new look by planting, transplanting, and re-arranging. All types of container grown plants can be set out now.

2. Among the most showy and exotic of vines are the large flowered clematis. This is the time to plant them.

3. Plant hydrangeas now and they will bloom this year in your garden.

4. Chrysanthemums can be planted now for summer and fall bloom. Try a border of the colorful cushion-mums.

5. If your lawn has not been fertilized this spring, it needs it.

Easter Plants

There is no nicer way of marking the Easter season for friends and relatives than with a living bouquet — an Easter plant.

The traditional Easter flower in the minds of many is the Easter Lily, always a lovely remembrance. But there are many other attractive flowering plants that will also make appropriate Easter plant gifts, informs the California Association of Nurserymen. Most of the Azalea species are in full bloom at Easter and their bright pink, red, purple, white and orange blooms cover each plant almost completely. Azaleas given as Easter plants can be grown in the container they come in or can be transplanted outdoors. Either way they will continue to give pleasure for many years to come.

Camellias are certain to please everyone no matter what his gardening tastes may be. A special Easter plant gift of Camellias in bud or flower could be chosen from the late-blooming Japonicas or the Reticulatas, a late-blooming species made available to the gardening public within the last few years.

Roses in bud and bloom can be given as Easter plant gifts, too. You will find all the favorite rose varieties growing in containers, including the All America selections and the established favorites.

Perhaps you would rather give an Easter remembrance with no particular season of bloom, such as a planter filled with succulents or foliage. Indoor plants such as the philodendron and African violet also make nice living plant gifts.

A very special treat for anyone is a gift of Cymbidium Orchids. These exotic flowers can be grown indoors or outside if the climate is suitable. They are available in an array of beautiful colors and are really quite easy to grow.

Another exotic plant that is sure to be enjoyed by everyone is the Gardenia. This flower is unequalled for its perfume and snow white blooms. "Mystery", veitchi and radicans offer large, small and miniature flowers, respectively.

Ornamental shrubs make handsome Easter-time gifts and the field to choose from is practically unlimited. This year, Easter falls in the middle of the Rhododendron blooming season. There is no finer, nor more beautiful gift than this.

When you go to choose your Easter plant gifts you will be able to select the type of container you want, too. Your nurseryman will have a wide selection of ceramic and redwood tubs, boxes and bowls as well as plant food and other supplies. He can instruct you on the proper care of your plant gifts too. Stop by your local nursery to choose gifts of living plant bouquets for Easter remembrances.

Cymbidium Orchids

If growing Cymbidium Orchids has always appealed to you but you have hesitated for fear of failure test your gardening situation with this question, says the California Association of Nurserymen. "Can you grow Azaleas, Fuchsias, Begonias or Camellias?" If you can then you can probably grow Cymbidium Orchids with great success.

Cymbidiums enjoy the same growing conditions as Azaleas, Fuchsias, Begonias and Camellias except perhaps they prefer a bit more direct sunlight. Plant Cymbidiums where they will have a fair amount of early morning or late afternoon slanting sunlight along with some broken sunlight throughout the day.

If the immediate area where you intend to grow Cymbidiums is free of frost, these Orchids can be grown out of doors in containers or directly in the ground.

The important requirement for Cymbidiums is good drainage. Plant Cymbidiums in a coarse friable compost that will drain well and can be kept moist throughout the year. A suggested compost is one part redwood (or any) shavings; one part peat moss and one part sand or sandy loam. Add one and a half ounces of garden fertilizer to each cubic foot of the planting pixtures and mix well before placing in the container or in the planting hole.

When you grow Cymbidiums in containers place several pieces of broken pot material over the drainage holes to assure quick drainage of excess water. Repot container grown plants every two or three years, moving them into larger containers as is necessary.

During dry summer months overhead watering is recommended. A safe watering rule is to soak the plant well and then do not water again until the compost is barely moist. Fertilize lightly and frequently during the time the plant is making its vegetative growth. Cymbidiums cut or plants taken indoors during the blooming season will last four to six weeks; few other flowers have such lasting qualities.

Cymbidiums grow in many lovely colors, such as yellow, bronze, pink, mahogany, crimson chartreuse and green.

Azaleas

More and more California gardeners are coming to realize that Azaleas can be grown successfully in most areas of the state—for Azaleas are generally very hardy ornamental shrubs. Some species of Azaleas will take sub zero temperatures while other species are better suited to the warm winter climates.

The Glendale Azalea species is hardy to sub zero temperatures. A new Azalea group, the Glendale has all types of growth and flower formation in it. Glendales bloom from March through April.

Gable hybrid Azaleas will take sub zero temperatures and survive. This hybrid group blooms in a range of colors from orange red to purple. Indian, Rutherfordiana, Pericat and Kurume Azaleas species will survive temperatures down to 15 and 20 degrees. The Indian is a heavy bloomer, grows fast, reaching six feet or more in a 15 year period. Rutherfordianas grow strong and bushy with its varieties blooming profusely in many colors from Christmas to Easter.

Late bloomers, Macrantha Azaleas bear large flowers in many forms and colors in May or June and sometimes throughout the entire summer. The tenderest Azalea species is the Belgain Indicas—they will survive a low temperature of only 30 degrees. These Azaleas bloom from fall to March in large double blooms and they do well as container-grown shrubs too.

Azaleas need a light, acid type, well drained soil with fairly high humid conditions, provide shade during the heat of the day but allow some sunshine at other times. They should be kept moist but not soggy wet at all times, recommends the California Association of Nurserymen.

A suggested planting mixture is one part leaf mold, two parts peat, one part clean sand. If you garden in adobe or clay soil plant your Azaleas above soil in the suggested planting mixture. It is suggested that you feed Azaleas with an acid-type fertilizer during the early part of April and May and during the middle of July and August.
